D B G	E C# A B
There's 52 ways to murder anyone One and two are the same	As the moon becomes the night time You go viciously, quietly away
A	E C#
And they both work as well	I'm sitting in the bedroom where we used to sit and smoke cigarettes
D B	A B
I'm coming clean for Amy Julie doesn't scream as well	Now I'm watching, watching you die
G A
And the cops won't listen all night	G A D
D B G A	And I can't remember when I saw her last
And so maybe I'll be over Just as soon as I fill them all in	G A D
	We were running around and having a blast
G A D	G A F# G
And I can't remember when I saw her last	But the backseat of the drive-in is so lonely with-out you
G A D	A
We were running around and having a blast	I know when you're home
G A F# G
But the backseat of the drive-in is so lonely with-out you	D B
A	I was thinking about you There was something I forgot to say
I know when you're home	G A D
	I was crying on a Saturday Night
D B	B
I was thinking about you There was something I forgot to say	I was out cruising without you They were playing our song
G A D	G A D B
I was crying on a Saturday Night	Crying on a Saturday Night
B	G A D B
I was out cruising without you They were playing our song	Crying on a Saturday Night
